Sunday Reflection

More than just food for the soul

The account of Jesus' feeding the 5000 is the Lord's only miracle that is recorded in all four of the Gospels. Obviously, the leaders of the earliest church were convinced that particular miracle from Jesus' public ministry needed to be passed down to the Church of all ages and that includes us!

As magnificent and impressive as this miracle is, it portrays much more than Jesus' "muscles and might." It shows our total dependence upon the mercy of God to meet even our simplest needs, the compassion of God to respond to those needs. This miracle feeding teaches us also, that we must play a part in any miracle God works. Our faith is the beginning, offering whatever we might have comes next, and then God will begin to work. Without those few loaves and fishes, how many would still be hungering?

Fr. Kevin's Cluttered Desk

Well, after a very long wait we now have our new Ritual Book for "Order of Christian Funerals: Celebrations with Cremated Remains". The pastoral notes for these celebrations are very much welcomed by parish priests and we hope the people of God also. For years each priest and parish has had to sort of make things up but now we have some direction.

The first thing of interest that caught my eye is the emphasis given to the "Vigil Prayers" and the importance that they play in the grieving process, both from the point of view of celebration but also from the point of view of storytelling which helps greatly in the grieving process. The importance of the three stages, Vigil Service, Funeral Mass and finally the Laying to Rest cannot be ignored. Each plays such an crucial part of the end of life experience both for the living and the dead.

- Number 627 of the notes reminds us that "The cremated remains are placed in their entirety in a secure vessel and reverently buried or entombed in a place reserved for the disposition of the dead; that is, in a grave, a mausoleum, or a columbarium, as soon as possible after the cremation has taken place".
- Number 628 reminds us that scattering of the cremated remains or keeping them in our homes is not to happen.
- Number 629 reminds us that if cremation is going to happen it should happen after the Funeral Liturgy.
- Number 634/635 reminds us that at the Funeral Liturgy/ Mass a small table with a white cloth should be prepared near/to the side of the altar but not on or in front of the altar. The Paschal Candle may be placed near the table but pictures should be displayed elsewhere. The cremated remains may be carried in, in procession at the beginning of the service or they may be placed on the table before the service begins. "The person carrying the cremated remains follows the presider. The mourners may follow."
- Number 638 reminds us that, following the prayer after Communion, during the Rite of Final Commendation, Holy Water may be used and, if deemed pastorally appropriate, incense may also be used.
- Number 642 reminds us of the importance of our Christian symbols: the Paschal Candle (the Resurrection), Holy Water (baptism), Incense (the prayers of the community) and also the "White Pall"(member of the family of God) should be in use at the Funeral Liturgy.

Most of what is now the order of things we have already been doing, but one that is sort of done but not always done is this: When cremation follows the Funeral Mass and the body is placed in the hearse to be taken away, people should stand in solemn respect until the hearse is out of sight, a respectful attitude of closure.

Peace Fr. Kevin
